To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to provide a professional reference for John McCullagh Bernard, owner of McCullagh Distribution. Our company has worked closely with John for several years, during which he has handled the transportation of our concrete pump trucks throughout both the United States and Canada.

John has consistently demonstrated exceptional reliability, professionalism, and expertise in cross-border logistics. His knowledge of transportation regulations, customs requirements, and specialized equipment handling has made every shipment smooth and worry-free. We trust him completely with high-value machinery, and he has never failed to deliver on time and in excellent condition.

Beyond his technical capabilities, John is a pleasure to work with. He communicates clearly, responds promptly, and approaches every job with a can-do attitude. His dedication to providing excellent service is evident in every interaction.

We highly recommend McCullagh Distribution for any transportation or logistics needs, particularly for specialized industrial equipment. They have been an invaluable partner to our operations, and we look forward to continuing our successful working relationship.

If you require any further information, please feel free to contact me directly.

Sincerely,

Lino Flores
